Description

The Hanwha ANE-L7012R blends superb image clarity, sophisticated analytics, and flexible functionality within a discreet and weather-resistant structure. With its 4MP IR Flateye PoE camera, this device excels in diverse security scenarios, offering extensive surveillance capabilities and reassuring peace of mind.

Key Features:

- High-resolution clarity: Capture crisp 4MP (2560 x 1440) video for accurate identification of details.
- Superior night vision: See clearly in darkness with a built-in infrared illuminator effective up to 20 meters.
- Smooth recording: Enjoy smooth 30fps video at all resolutions (H.265/H.264) for seamless playback.
- Efficient compression: Benefit from H.265/H.264 and MJPEG codec options for optimised storage and bandwidth usage.
- Exceptional image quality: Wide Dynamic Range (WDR) ensures clear images even in high-contrast lighting conditions.
- Advanced analytics: Built-in features include defocus detection, directional detection, motion detection, enter/exit detection, and tampering alerts for comprehensive security.
- Expandable storage: Micro SD/SDHC card slot accepts up to 32GB for local storage.
- Power over Ethernet (PoE): Simplifies installation with a single cable for both power and data.
- · Ideal for hallways: Hallway view allows for efficient monitoring of narrow spaces with 90°, 180°, and 270° rotation options.
- · Built to last: Weatherproof and impact-resistant with IP67 and IK10 ratings.
